My sense of humor is much appreciated, and his approach to teaching students by analogy is a very effective one. Having code running and being modified during the lectures helped, too.

Even having programmed before & being familiar with the topics, I wanted to come to this class because they made it interesting.

Please always keep the anonymous feedback.

You are a very good teacher Alex. Even though I did not do as well as I wanted to in this class, I have learned a lot. I've gotten better at things like loops and programming in general, but it was after the tests that I realized how to do these things. This was my first course in programming of my kind and I'm glad I had you as an instructor because you made it a good experience for me.

Thank you,
Bilal

The beginning was enjoyable, but I soon learned to loathe it. I don't get much out of lecture, nor out of lab. The book is little to no help. I have completely lost interest in CprE after taking this course. Prof Staytchev is an enjoyable teacher, as were the TAs, but they could not effectively teach.

Great class!
 We still should've watched the Matrix.
 Have TAs return assignments faster.
 Clarify grading criteria for programming projects.
 Leave more time for tests.

Additional Comments:

- more labs, less lecturing.
- sitting through lectures is boring. have us actively participate.
- assign group work.
- write a textbook.
- don't make us cover the majority of the course the second half of the semester. the material given was not consistent or appreciated.
- Keep homework <sup>due</sup> dates the same throughout the semester.
- reward participation & attendance points. it's not fair that students who don't come to class can get the same grades as those who do. i feel like im wasting my time coming to class if grade-wise I'm doing the same as them.

I believe we should have moved at the same pace throughout the course instead of spending so much time on scant and printff and then slamming us with new information super fast. It's not fair to people with little programming experience.

Sometimes, the way the top 10
 people are idolized discourages me
 from doing better.

like after EVERY test, I just feel dumb and inadequate.

It's great that the lecture notes were posted on the website. ~~Ex~~ Also the codes posted with were extremely helpful. Please continue to do so.

I'm very glad that the lecture was PPT because my other programming class just coded without using any PPT and I got very lost.

One thing that I would improve is the material towards the end since it's hard to follow in the text. ~~I~~ Maybe if there is another source that explains that material better because the text helped me a lot but ~~the~~ I struggled with the last material we discussed in class.

Also, it's very helpful to have extra pts on the exams because we have less pressure and can learn the material without only worrying about getting an A.

This class was well organized. a lot of good examples were available to help get the point across.

The professor was available after class to help with any confusion. He was able to re-explain using different words the same concept to make it better understood.

Class was fun!!
